

Welcome to CirenCoho

We are building a vibrant, diverse and welcoming cohousing community.

By embracing the wonderful concept of cohousing, we are creating an intentional, supportive community amongst people who share similar values.

We envision an open and airy site, built with natural materials in a beautiful location close to a town.

Sustainable living is core to our values and our intention is to build both our individual homes and our shared common house to Passivhaus standards.

We want to develop supportive, intergenerational friendships, we look forward to sharing our combined skills and passions to enrich the lives of our community and expand our worldview.

Sharing a good life

Cohousing is an appealing form of intentional community & a great antidote to the isolation & loneliness many people feel in today's societies.

Our Site: a semi rural 2-acre, close to public transport, with safe access to a range of facilities including shops, GP surgery, pharmacy & schools.

Cohousing is a way of living which encourages people to know, befriend & support their neighbours through sharing activities & resources.

Our Community: designed for all ages, ethnicities, genders, sexual orientation, faiths & abilities. Find out more about our unisex facilities, teenager rec' areas, family storage innovations & our approach to embracing different cultures.

Cohousing residents have their own private homes, spaces & independent lives; they also have access to various community facilities, such as a common house where members can often share meals & entertainment.

Our Homes: will comprise of 32 homes including flats & houses of different sizes, to accommodate all types of family sizes or living arrangements.
